Grape harvest

The grapes were harvested in 2 stages, characterized by different levels of ripeness/ripening.

Vinification

The grapes were harvested manually. The grapes were macerated at low temperatures and the pressing was done cold. The must was fermented in stainless steel tanks at controlled temperatures.

Wine philosophy

Although it is an authentic Romanian variety, with deep roots in history, Zghihara de Huși , in the new oenological interpretation from Domeniile Averesti , reveals its unique valences. The wine impresses with an intense harmony, characterized by a strong personality, which makes this 'noble savage' a perfect choice both for festive meals and for warm summer evenings by the sea.

Tasting notes

Pale lemon-yellow wine, almost "transparent". It is fresh, with aromas of hay and wildflowers, complemented by subtle nuances of green bell pepper and fennel. On the palate, fruity notes of green apple and gooseberry are felt, slightly vegetal, well balanced by a pleasant acidity. The finish is short to medium, with a citrus and slightly bitter note, leaving traces of apricot pits.

Culinary associations

A 100% Romanian wine that goes excellently with fish dishes, shellfish, seafood, Telemea cheese, zacuscă, smoked fish and vegetable dishes, but can also successfully accompany Pleșcoi sausages.

Wine philosophy

A unique blend that starts in the vineyard because the percentages of the wine are found in the plantation. Basically, the grapes are picked together, vinified together and create this wine in which the flavor, freshness and body of Feteștii Regale are perfectly complemented by the velvety notes of Feteștii Albe.

Tasting notes

Pale lemon-yellow wine with aromas of wildflowers, vines and acacia, followed by fruity notes of green apples and lemon peel. The supple texture is the result of the balance between acidity, alcohol and a friendly sugar residue. The aromas are a mix of grapefruit, lime juice and wildflowers, with quince, raisins and yellow apples at the end. The aftertaste is medium, and the demi-sec vinification adds a refreshing note, ideal for various occasions. This delicate wine highlights the features of two "unripe" white varieties.
